

INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIUM
ON JESUIT SECONDARY EDUCATION

THE WORLD IS OUR HOUSE

Hosted by
BOSTON COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

July 29 - August 2, 2012

Dear Delegate,

It began as an idea over three years ago. Today, over three hundred and seventy five delegates, representing more than 280 institutions and sixty-two countries have gathered here to discuss the strong global Jesuit network in secondary education. Our international network is unique and with all of us working together and sharing ideas, we are in a position to formulate a plan to strengthen the Jesuit commitment to developing the global leaders of tomorrow.

It certainly is not inconceivable that the leader of one country whose basic educational Jesuit background of equality and justice for all will be able to interact with the leader of another country who has been educated with a similar philosophy.

We look upon this International Colloquium as the beginning of what we hope will lay the groundwork for the exchange of ideas for many years to come. Please accept the gratitude of the formulating committee for being instrumental in achieving the conversion of this idea to its actual fruition during the next five days.

Cher(ère) délégué(e),

Il y a encore trois ans, ce n'était qu'une idée. Aujourd'hui, plus de 375 délégués représentant plus de 280 établissements et 62 pays se sont réunis ici afin de discuter du puissant réseau mondial jésuite dans l'éducation secondaire.

Notre réseau international est unique et, grâce à notre travail en commun et notre échange d'idées, nous sommes en mesure d'élaborer un projet visant à renforcer l'engagement des Jésuites à former les dirigeants mondiaux de demain.

Il est loin d'être inconcevable que le dirigeant d'un pays dont la formation scolaire jésuite encourage l'égalité et la justice pour tous puisse communiquer sans difficultés avec le dirigeant d'un autre pays ayant reçu une éducation basée sur une philosophie de la vie similaire.

Ce colloque international représente pour nous le développement de ce que nous espérons voir devenir un environnement propice à un échange d'idées pour de nombreuses années à venir. Notre comité tient à vous remercier humblement pour le rôle déterminant que vous jouerez dans la concrétisation de cette idée pendant les cinq prochains jours.

Estimado Delegado:

El Coloquio nació como idea hace más de tres años. Hoy, más de trescientos setenta y cinco delegados, que representan a 280 instituciones y sesenta y dos países, se han reunido aquí para debatir sobre la red global Jesuita en la educación secundaria.

Contamos con una red internacional excepcional. Esto unido al trabajo y a la puesta en común de ideas, nos permitirá diseñar un plan para fortalecer el compromiso Jesuita para desarrollar a los líderes globales del mañana.

No resulta extraño que el líder de un país que se haya formado en el marco de los valores jesuitas de igualdad y justicia pueda interaccionar con el líder de otro país que haya sido educado en un ambiente similar.

Consideramos este Coloquio Internacional como el comienzo de lo que esperamos sentará las bases de un intercambio de ideas que acaba de empezar y durará muchos años. Por último, queremos agradecerte tu papel en el proceso de convertir esta idea los hechos palpables que se desarrollarán durante los próximos cinco días.

WELCOME · BIENVENUE· BIENVENIDO

Dr. Martin J. Dunn

“Serving Christ’s mission today means paying special attention to its global context.

This context requires us to act as a universal body with a universal mission, realizing at the same time the radical diversity of our situations.

It is as a worldwide community

- and, simultaneously, as a network of local communities - that we seek to serve others across the world.”

Decree 2, 20 - General Congregation 35

« Servir la mission du Christ aujourd’hui signifie prêter une attention spéciale à son contexte global.

Ce contexte exige que nous agissions comme corps universel avec une mission universelle, tout en tenant compte de la diversité radicale de nos situations.

C'est comme communauté mondiale

- en même temps réseau de communautés locales - que nous cherchons à servir les autres à travers le monde. »

Décret 2, 20 - 35^e Congrégation Générale

“Servir a la misión de Cristo hoy implica prestar especial atención a su contexto global.

Este contexto requiere de nosotros actuar como un cuerpo universal con una misión universal, constatando, al mismo tiempo, la radical diversidad de nuestras situaciones.

Buscamos servir a los demás en todo el mundo, como una comunidad de dimensiones mundiales y, simultáneamente, como una red de comunidades locales.”

Rev. Martin T. Connell, SJ, PhD

Founding Headmaster

St. Peter Claver High School, Tanzania

"In the Footsteps of St. Ignatius:

Ignatian Educators as Pilgrims on the Way"
Fr. Connell entered the Jesuits in 1981 after graduating from St. John's Jesuit High School, Toledo, Ohio, USA. He did his regency at St. Ignatius High School, Cleveland, Ohio, USA, where he returned after ordination to serve as the Assistant Principal for Academic Affairs. As the principal at the University of Detroit Jesuit High School and Academy, he began a program of faculty development based on providing teachers opportunities to have discussions about their teaching in small groups. The success of this program – called “colleagues in conversation” – served as an impetus for him to do further research on teacher learning, which he did as part of a PhD program in the anthropology of education at the University of California, Santa Barbara. His doctoral research and subsequent research has concentrated on teacher conversations as resources for teacher learning. In 2009, after serving four years in the School of Education at Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles, CA, USA, Fr. Connell accepted an invitation to serve as the founding headmaster at St. Peter Claver High School in Dodoma, Tanzania. Father Connell will explain how we can be guided by the life of St. Ignatius and the Spiritual Exercises in our work as Jesuit educators.

Directeur Fondateur Du Lycée St. Peter Claver High School - Tanzanie

« Sur les traces de Saint Ignace – Les éducateurs ignatiens, des pèlerins en chemin »

Le Père Connell a rejoint les Jésuites en 1981 après avoir reçu son diplôme du lycée jésuite Saint John à Toledo, dans l'Ohio. Il accomplit son noviciat au lycée Saint Ignace à Cleveland, dans l'Ohio aux Etats-Unis ; il y retourne après son ordination pour y occuper le poste d'assistant principal des affaires académiques. En tant que directeur de l'établissement d'enseignement secondaire et académie jésuite de l'Université de Detroit, il entreprend un programme permettant aux enseignants de se réunir et de discuter des méthodes d'enseignement en petits groupes. La réussite de ce programme, intitulé «conversations entre collègues», lui a servi d'élan pour mener des recherches plus poussées sur la formation des enseignants, ce qui faisait partie de son doctorat sur l'anthropologie de l'éducation à l'université de Californie, à Santa Barbara. Sa recherche de doctorat et ses recherches ultérieures se concentraient sur le rôle des conversations entre enseignants dans la formation de ces derniers. En 2009, après avoir travaillé quatre ans au département de l'éducation à l'université de Loyola Marymount à Los Angeles en Californie, le Père Connell a accepté le poste de directeur fondateur du lycée Saint Peter Claver à Dodoma, en Tanzanie. Le Père

Connell nous expliquera comment la vie de Saint Ignace et les exercices spirituels peuvent nous guider dans notre travail d'éducateurs jésuites.

El Padre Connel se unió a la Compañía de Jesús tras graduarse en el St. John's Jesuit High School, Toledo, Ohio (EE.UU.). Hizo su noviciado en St. Ignatius High School, Cleveland, Ohio, adonde volvió tras ordenarse para ocupar el puesto de Director Asistente de Asuntos Académicos. Como Director del centro de educación secundaria University of Detroit Jesuit High School and Academy, impulsó un programa de capacitación docente basado en el debate entre docentes sobre la enseñanza en pequeños grupos. El éxito de este programa, llamado “charla entre colegas”, le sirvió como impulso para profundizar en la investigación de este campo dentro del programa de doctorado en antropología de la educación en la Universidad de California, Santa Barbara. Su investigación doctoral y post-doctoral se centra en las conversaciones entre profesores como fuente de aprendizaje docente. En 2009, tras trabajar cuatro años en la Facultad de Educación en la Universidad Loyola Marymount, Los Angeles, California, EE.UU., Padre Connel aceptó una invitación para ocupar el puesto de director fundador en el centro de educación secundaria St. Peter Claver High School en Dodoma, Tanzania. "Jesuit Worldwide Communities"

The International Commission on the Apostolate of Jesuit Education (ICAJE) Panel

"It is as a worldwide community - and, simultaneously, as a network of local communities - that we seek to serve others across the world." (G.C. 35, Decree 2, 20)

This session was designed to allow us to get to know one another's communities through a panel discussion. Without having a better understanding of the global network, collaborative efforts will be more challenging. Brief presentations from each ICAJE member will include a short report on the state of Jesuit education in each region. Panel members will share basic statistics, educational strengths, the main educational challenges, and current projects from their region.

"The Jesuit Mission and Reflections from General Congregation 35"

Curia Secretariats Panel

The Curia Secretariats Panel is composed of four secretaries leading the following apostolic sectors: Promotion of Faith, Collaboration with Others, Social Justice and Ecology, and Higher Education.

Each secretary will share his perspectives on the challenges that lie ahead for the Jesuit schools in our present global context and to propose how our school leaders can go about meeting those challenges. This presentation aims to help the school leadership frame the Colloquium within the broader picture of the Society's mission today.

Each secretary will also share his reflections on General Congregation 35 as it relates to the Jesuit mission in our schools and educational institutions. After all the secretaries have given their presentations, there will be time allocated for questions and answers.

Healthy Environments for Learning and Growing

This session will focus on our network wide commitment to ensuring that our Jesuit schools around the world provide safe, healthy and nourishing environments for learning and growing.

Network Initiatives

These brief presentations will offer examples of global initiatives already taking place throughout the Jesuit network, as well as potential future initiatives. The initiatives to be featured are as follows:

- Ignacianos por Haití
- International Baccalaureate
- Global Ignatian Advocacy Network
- World Union of Jesuit Alumni

Regional Discussions

The purpose of the Regional Discussions session is to review, discuss and solicit feedback from participants that will help provide direction for our continued collaborative efforts – after all, the success of our gathering will very much be measured by our future work together as a network! Participants will be grouped according to ICAJE regions and will be lead by regional ICAJE members. The overall benefits of our time together, the vision we have as a network, and the possibility of a future gathering of Jesuit secondary schools will all be discussed during Regional Gatherings. The ICJSE Steering Committee has begun planning a vision statement for how we hope to proceed as a global network, and regional gatherings will ensure that the voice of each region is truly heard before a final vision statement is produced.

Collaboration Sessions

The Collaboration Sessions will provide a flexible meeting time for participants to meet with one another and discuss issues of interest, exchange contact information, and explore collaboration ideas. The session will provide an opportunity for personal networking interests that arise during the ICJSE. For example, this could be time for two participants to discuss the creation of a partnership. The session may also serve as an opportunity for further group discussions regarding topics that have arisen during the ICJSE and warrant further attention. These "topics," should they arise, will be posted with a room number and facilitator. This time can also be used for members of the network to connect on issues not necessarily pertaining to the ICJSE. Perhaps participants from the same region would like to discuss an issue only relevant to their region.

"Ite Inflammate Omnia" – (Go, Set the World Aflame)

The International Commission on the Apostolate of Jesuit Education (ICAJE) Panel

During this session, ICAJE members will share with the entire audience suggestions, feedback, and hopes for the future direction of our network as discussed by each region during the Regional Discussions from the previous day.

Sessions plénieress

« Les communautés mondiales jésuites »

La Commission internationale pour l'Apostolat de l'Éducation jésuite (ICAJE)

« C'est comme communauté mondiale - en même temps réseau de communautés locales - que nous cherchons à servir les autres à travers le monde. » (35e CG, 2e décret, 20)

Cette session a été conçue afin que nous puissions apprendre à se connaître les uns des autres communautés à travers un panel de discussion. Sans une meilleure compréhension de notre réseau mondial, il sera plus difficile de fournir des efforts de collaboration. De courtes présentations par chaque membre de l'ICAJE comprendront un résumé de la situation de l'éducation jésuite dans chaque région. Les membres menant la discussion partageront quelques chiffres et évoqueront les forces pédagogiques, les principaux défis et les projets actuels de leur région.

« Mission jésuite et des réflexions à partir de la 35e Congrégation Générale »

Le panel des Secrétariats de la Curie

Le panel des Secrétariats de la Curie est composé de quatre secrétaires dirigeant les secteurs apostoliques suivants : la promotion de la Foi, la collaboration avec les autres, la justice sociale et l'écologie, et l'éducation supérieure.

Chaque secrétaire partagera son point de vue sur les défis à venir des établissements scolaires jésuites dans le contexte mondial actuel et propose à nos directeurs d'établissements scolaires des solutions à ces défis. Cette présentation a pour but d'aider les directeurs à placer le Colloque au cœur de la mission actuelle de la Compagnie.

Chaque secrétaire également fera part de ses pensées sur la 35ème Congrégation générale puisqu'elle est reliée à la mission jésuite dans nos établissements scolaires et nos institutions pédagogiques. Après que les secrétaires auront terminé leurs présentations, une séance de questions-réponses sera organisée.

Un environnement sain pour mieux apprendre et grandir

Cette session se concentrera sur l'engagement qu'a pris notre réseau de s'assurer que nos établissements scolaires jésuites aux quatre coins du globe s'emploient à fournir un environnement sûr, sain et enrichissant pour apprendre et mûrir.

Initiatives dans le réseau

Ces courtes présentations seront assorties d'exemples d'actions mondiales déjà en cours de réalisation au sein du réseau jésuite. Des projets d'actions y seront également exposés. Les initiatives qui seront présentées sont les suivants:

- Ignacianos por Haití
- Baccalauréat International
- Réseau global « d'advocacy » ignatien
- Union mondiale des anciens élèves de la Compagnie de Jésus (UMAEJ)

Les discussions régionales

L'objectif de la session des discussions régionales est de demander aux participants d'apporter des commentaires et propositions constructifs qui aideront à diriger nos efforts continus de collaboration; après tout, le succès de notre réunion se mesurera grâce au travail futur que nous effectuerons de concert avec les autres membres de notre réseau! Les participants seront répartis dans des groupes en fonction des régions de l'ICAJE et les discussions seront menées par les membres régionaux de l'ICAJE. Les avantages de ce rassemblement, la vision que nous avons en tant que réseau ainsi que la possibilité d'une future réunion des établissements secondaires jésuites seront des points discutés lors des réunions régionales. Le comité d'orientation de l'ICJSE a prévu d'organiser une session d'information lors de laquelle nous expliquerons comment nous souhaitons opérer en tant que réseau mondial; les réunions régionales garantiront que la voix de chaque région soit entendue avant la tenue de cette session d'information.

Les sessions réservées à l'inter-collaboration

Des sessions réservées à l'inter-collaboration, à des heures flexibles, permettront aux participants de se rencontrer et de discuter de sujets pertinents, d'échanger leurs informations personnelles et d'explorer de nouvelles façons de collaborer. La session est une opportunité pour nouer des contacts durant l'ICJSE. Par exemple, cela pourrait permettre à deux participants d'évoquer la création d'un partenariat. La session pourrait également faire naître des discussions de groupe sur des sujets évoqués lors de l'ICJSE et nécessitant d'être approfondis. Si ces « sujets », viennent à être abordés, un numéro de salle et un médiateur seront attribués à ce nouveau groupe de discussion. Cette plage horaire peut aussi permettre aux membres de notre réseau de parler de sujets n'ayant pas forcément trait à l'ICJSE. Il se peut que les participants d'une même région souhaitent discuter d'un sujet spécifique à leur région.

« Ite Inflammate Omnia » (Va, enflame le monde)

La Commission internationale pour l'Apostolat de l'Éducation jésuite (ICAJE)

Lors de cette session, les membres de l'ICAJE feront part à tous les participants de leurs suggestions, commentaires et attentes pour l'avenir de notre réseau, lesquels se seront fait jour lors des discussions régionales de la veille.

Sesiones Plenarias

"Las Comunidades mundiales Jesuitas"

El panel de la Comisión Internacional del Apostolado Educativo de la Compañía de Jesús (ICAJE)

"Buscamos servir a los demás en todo el mundo, como una comunidad de dimensiones mundiales y, simultáneamente, como una red de comunidades locales." (G.C. 35, Decreto 2, 20)

Esta sesión fue diseñada para que podamos llegar a conocer unos a otros las comunidades mediante un panel de discusión. Cada miembro del ICAJE llevará a cabo una breve presentación que incluirá un pequeño informe sobre el estado de la educación Jesuita en cada región. Los miembros del panel compartirán datos estadísticos básicos sobre la región, sus puntos fuertes educativos, sus principales retos educativos y los proyectos que se estén desarrollando actualmente.

"La C.G. 35 y la Misión"

Panel de los Secretariados de la Curia

El Panel de los Secretariados de la Curia está compuesto por cuatro secretarios liderando los siguientes sectores apostólicos: La Promoción de la Fé, La Colaboración con los otros, Justicia Social y Ecología, y Educación Superior.

Cada uno de los secretarios compartirá su perspectiva de los retos que se presentan ante las escuelas Jesuitas en el contexto global y harán propuestas a los líderes de nuestras escuelas sobre como pueden superar estos retos. Esta presentación pretende ayudar a los líderes de nuestras escuelas en el Coloquio a que obtengan una visión más amplia de la misión de la Sociedad hoy en día.

Cada secretario también compartirá sus reflexiones sobre la Congregación General 35 y como ésta está relacionada con la misión Jesuita en nuestras escuelas e instituciones educativas. Una vez que hayan concluido todas las presentaciones de los secretarios, se abrirá un turno de preguntas y respuestas.

Un mejor ambiente para aprender y crecer

Esta sesión se centrará en el compromiso de nuestra amplia red para asegurar que nuestras escuelas Jesuitas en todo el mundo proporcionan ambientes seguros, sanos y sustanciosos para aprender y crecer.

Iniciativas en la red

Estas breves presentaciones pondrán varios ejemplos de iniciativas globales que ya se están llevando a cabo en la red Jesuita, así como iniciativas potenciales futuras. Las iniciativas que se presentarán son las siguientes:

- Ignacianos por Haití
- Bachillerato Internacional
- Red global de "advocacy" ignaciana
- Unión mundial de los antiguos alumnos de la Compañía de Jesús (UMAAJ)

Discusiones Regionales

El propósito de la sesión de Discusiones Regionales es revisar, discutir y pedir su opinión a los participantes sobre cómo deben ser las directrices en nuestros continuos esfuerzos colaborativos, ya que, después de todo, el éxito de nuestra reunión se reflejará en gran medida en nuestro futuro trabajo como una red. Los participantes se agruparán de acuerdo con las regiones de la ICAJE y serán coordinados por miembros regionales de ésta.

Los beneficios generales de esta reunión, la visión conjunta que tenemos como red, y la posibilidad de una reunión futura de las escuelas secundarias Jesuitas serán discutidos durante las Discusiones Regionales. El Comité de Dirección del ICJSE ha comenzado a preparar una declaración de principios sobre como esperamos actuar como una red global, por lo que las reuniones regionales servirán para asegurar que se tiene en cuenta la voz de cada región antes de que se elabore la declaración de principios final.

Sesiones de Colaboración

Las Sesiones de Colaboración supondrán un momento de reuniones flexibles para que los participantes puedan reunirse entre ellos y discutir sobre asuntos de interés, intercambien su información de contacto y exploren formas de colaboración. La sesión también servirá como oportunidad para establecer redes de contacto personales compartiendo intereses que surjan durante el ICJSE. Por ejemplo, dos participantes podrán discutir como crear una asociación para trabajar conjuntamente. O por ejemplo, supondrá una oportunidad para la creación de potenciales grupos de discusión acerca de algún tema en concreto que haya surgido en el ICJSE y requiera atención más allá de la celebración del Coloquio. En el caso de que surjan estos "temas", se les asignará un número de habitación y un coordinador. Estas sesiones también pueden utilizarse para crear redes de contacto acerca de temas que no necesariamente se vayan a tratar en el ICJSE, por ejemplo, quizás algunos participantes de la misma región quieran discutir sobre algo que solo concierne a su región.

"Ite Inflammate Omnia" – (Id, inflamad todas cosas)

El panel de la Comisión Internacional del Apostolado Educativo de la Compañía de Jesús (ICAJE)

Durante esta sesión, los miembros de la ICAJE compartirán sus sugerencias, opiniones y esperanzas para el futuro camino de nuestra red con todos los asistentes del ICJSE aunando los intereses de cada región tal y como se discutieron en las discusiones regionales del día anterior.

What Makes a Jesuit School Jesuit?Edward Fassett, S.J.

*Secretary for Secondary and Pre-secondary Education
Jesuit Conference
USA*

Meg Florentine

*Provincial Assistant, New England Province
USA*

Cindy Reopelle

*Provincial Assistant, Oregon Province
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 145

What Makes your school a Jesuit School? Perhaps you have been asked this question by a prospective parent, board member or teacher candidate. When the first Jesuit school was founded in the USA in 1789, by Bishop John Carroll, the Ratio Studiorum, and the Jesuit staff shaped the program and scope of the answers to this question. Since that time Jesuits and Lay Partners have collaborated to create a strong education apostolate advancing the mission of the Society of Jesus in the USA. Schools continually strive to strengthen their Jesuit identity and deepen their understanding of the Jesuit tradition of Ignatian Pedagogy. High Schools are supported in this by the programs and resources offered by the Jesuit Secondary Education Association. Following General Congregation 34, the Jesuit Conference of the USA Assistancy reflected on the relationship between Jesuit schools and the Society of Jesus and first published the document, What Makes a Jesuit High School Jesuit? (2000). This document identified 10 apostolic principles of Jesuit schools to strengthen the relationship between a school and the Society of Jesus. In 2006, the document was revised to be more inclusive and responsive to Jesuit schools striving to strengthen and sustain their mission. The presenters will discuss the context of the document and provide examples of using the document including for sponsorship review.

Humanizing Globalization through Ignatian Arts EducationChristina Helms

*Content and Language Integrated Learning Specialist,
Istituto Leone XII
Italy*

Fulton Hall Room 210

In the Ignatian tradition, music, literature and visual art are all means by which we can experience the divine. Thus helping students to cultivate their critical faculties – to "savor" aesthetic experiences – is a crucial goal in and of itself. But the nurturing of aesthetic awareness can also serve a broader goal: when educators succeed, students take the vital step of recognizing the common humanity of musicians, writers and artists from different cultures around the globe. This workshop will offer guidelines to maximize the receptiveness of students to new aesthetic experiences and show how, by respecting the Ignatian emphasis on active student involvement, we can help students become open-minded critics, able to regard the arts and humanities as part of a global cultural patrimony. We will reflect together on how music, in particular, might act as an antidote to the fragmentation of concentration among adolescents, and how it can be taken out of the subject category of "music appreciation" and integrated into other disciplines. Finally, we will discuss the importance of arts education and the so-called "right brain" skills (described by Daniel Pink) as vital assets in the "conceptual age" of the new globalized economy.

The Campus Ministry Department: A Nexus of Ignatian Spirituality in Jesuit Secondary Education

John Mark

*Director of Campus Ministry, Boston College High School
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 250

A campus ministry department can comprise a central place in the life of a Jesuit secondary school. Campus ministry has the potential to be a nexus or connector with the many different facets involved in forming a vital and vibrant secondary educational community. This centrality is developed through and in the practice of and attentiveness to Ignatian Spirituality. If we visualize the school community in terms of spirituality and thus proceed from the understanding that St. Ignatius developed in the Constitutions and Howard Gray, SJ, the noted expert and animator on Ignatian Spirituality puts in adaptable language, we may seek to develop the role and nature of campus ministry from the dynamic understanding of: Attention, Reverence, and Devotion. This workshop will involve not only a presentation on the idea of locating campus ministry from this perspective that St. Ignatius sets forth in the Constitutions, but it will also introduce and stimulate a conversation on the practical aspects of retreats and formation programs that might be introduced out of such an understanding and vision.

How Can We Guarantee Jesuit Ethos in a New African SchoolPeter Henriot, SJ

Director of Development, Loyola Jesuit Secondary School Malawi

Fulton Hall Room 423

The Zambia-Malawi Jesuits have embarked on an exciting new educational project, Loyola Jesuit Secondary School, in Kasungu, Malawi. We Jesuits work in one of the poorest countries in the world so we decided to make a real “option for the poor.” We do this by locating our school in a poor rural area that lacks good schools, making the school co-educational and boarding for 500, and cooperating with the Government of Malawi for “grant-aided” status – Government pays teachers and staff, meaning that fees are lower and more accessible to families of lesser means. But we face a challenge of how to assure the Jesuit ethos governs the school right from start. Our Vision uses all the right words: “followers of Jesus, model of humanity,” “graduates of conscience, competence, compassion and commitment,” “guided by the Christian values of a faith that promotes justice,” “people for others,” “women and men trained not just to make a living but to make a difference.” As a new Jesuit school in Africa, we need help with models of what is done elsewhere, materials we can share with teachers and students, persons who might spend some time with us to share experiences.

From Ignatius Experience to the Profile of the Graduate at GraduationJack McLain, SJ

*Rector, Saint Ignatius College
Australia*

Fulton Hall Room 425

What does the experience of a minor Basque noble-turned passionate mystic have to say to us in Ignatian education today? This seminar is a search for the DNA of the Profile of the Graduate at Graduation in the experience of the Society's founder. We'll tie together the experience of Saint Ignatius, how that experience influences his spirituality, and how that spirituality is lived in the everyday life of our schools today.

Can We Teach Social Justice? Emphasizing Social Justice in our CurriculumNorbert Menezes, SJ

*Secretary, Jesuit Education Association
India*

Fulton Hall Room 453

This workshop will briefly explore the meaning of social justice, our current teaching pedagogy, the spirituality that stirs social justice, implications of emphasizing social justice in the curriculum, some important characteristics of Jesuit education and the goal of Jesuit education, a way forward for teaching social justice through the Ignatian Pedagogical Paradigm, and finally activities and actions that can be introduced in the curriculum to promote social justice within the constraints of school education. The workshop will seek to evolve strategies based on the experiences of the participants coming from varied and pluralistic backgrounds. Hopefully these strategies will add to our repertoire of teaching skills in developing persons for others.

Development of Human Excellence Through Academic And Personal Formation in Our Secondary Schools

Francis Swamy, SJ

*Principal, Holy Family High School
India*

Fulton Hall Room 115

We can define 'Human Excellence' in the context of Jesuit education as, 'the fullest possible development of every dimension of the person, linked to the development of a sense of values and a commitment to the service of others which gives priority to the needs of the poor and a willingness to sacrifice self-interest for the promotion of justice.' Human Excellence is conceptualized as a composite of academic formation and personal formation. Education is a key factor in determining one's attitudes and outlook. The Jesuits have been involved in the field of education for more than four hundred years. They have set up schools and colleges in almost every country and have earned the reputation of being outstanding educationists all over the world. As Jesuit educationist we need to reflect on the academic objectives and the ethos of educational institutions to influence student achievement, type of institute and its influence students' personal development and value system.

¿Cuáles son las variadas críticas de calidad de un centro escolar? ¿Qué resultados debe tener un colegio de la Compañía de Jesús, para ser llamado un centro de calidad? ¿Cómo podemos orientar un trabajo de calidad, desde un modelo de gestión que responda a los rasgos identitarios de un centro ignaciano? Estas son las preguntas que aborda el taller: "FLACSI: Sistema de Calidad en la Gestión, una propuesta de calidad para los colegios latinoamericanos". El taller discutirá los referentes teóricos y el diseño metodológico, de un sistema que empezará a aplicar la Federación de Colegios Latinoamericanos de la Compañía de Jesús (FLACSI). Es un modelo de asociatividad entre Centros Escolares y redes universitarias, para movilizar a nuestros centros hacia la mejora continua, teniendo como foco el logro de nuestra misión

A Multicultural and Multi-Religious Population In A Catholic Jesuit High School: Management and Strategic Choices

Johan Verschueren SJ

*Provincial elect of BSE (Northern Belgium) and provincial elect of the Netherlands (NER)
Principal, Xaveriuscollege
Belgium*

Fulton Hall Room 130

The Xaveriuscollege is constituted of a big primary and secondary school located in a popular area of Antwerp inhabited by a majority of Moroccans and other migrants. Our story is a story of emancipation and cultural integration of a difficult cultural minority. 10 years ago a significant group of Moroccan Muslims and young migrants from diverse origins applied at our school. As the legal educational system in Northern Belgium (Flanders) requires that schools accept all applications without any restriction, we were faced with a major problem that shook the foundations of our pedagogical system and of our cultural and religious identity. Our teachers and board were not prepared. After several years of trouble and confusion, in 2005 a clear and new vision on the multicultural management was developed. In a few years the original threat and the paralyzing fear were transformed in hope and strength. The problem had become a challenge. Recent research on the educational results and on the religious identity of the school (teachers, pupils, board) clearly establishes the positive turn the school is taking. It is now becoming one of the rare good-practice examples in the difficult field of multicultural school management in Flanders. The workshop describes the main features of the actual management and shows the results of recent research.

The Role and function of the Ethos/Mission and Identity Office In the Jesuit SchoolMike McGonagle

*Vice Principal for Ignatian Mission and Identity,
Boston College High School
USA*

Frank Clarke

*Faith Formation & Evangelisation Adviser,
Sydney Catholic Education Office
Australia*

Fulton Hall Room 135

Two experienced practitioners will discuss the emerging role of the director of ethos/mission and identity in Jesuit schools today. Consideration will be given to the various ways the role has evolved in different academic settings and countries, how the position is informed by recent general congregations, and the relationship between Jesuit schools and the Society of Jesus in the future.

Both perspectives will mention how the prominence of the Jesuit identity of the school can be ensured when this position is given authority within leadership and operations of schools. Discussion will incorporate the importance of ongoing, systematic, collaborative and graduated formation for all employees and students. The speakers will share their experience of ways to develop successful programs within schools, and how our schools can coordinate efforts with local church and Jesuit colleagues regionally, nationally, and increasingly, internationally. Time will be given for questions and discussion.

Reading Beyond the BookJen LaMaster

*Director of Faculty Development, Brebeuf Jesuit Preparatory School
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 145

Information consumption has traditionally been the realm of print media. Today, we have a myriad of devices available to use beyond printed words on paper. In this session, we'll examine research on reading habits in the United States. After this contextual analysis of reading habits, the session will focus on an experience with a Tech Petting Zoo. A Tech Petting Zoo is much like a traditional Petting Zoo but with electronic devices instead of animals. After introducing the devices, participants will have hands on time with the devices. On hand will be Kindle, Kindle Touch, Kindle Fire, iPad 1 & 2, Chromebook, Lenovo Android tablet and any other device I can get my hands on. We'll also look at how various publishers are embracing e-publishing for their products.

La collaboration dans les collèges jésuites en Afrique et Madagascar

Kalubi Nsukami Augustin, SJ

Society of Jesus – Central Africa Province Democratic Republic of Congo

Fulton Hall Room 220

A la lumière des textes de dernières congrégations générales de la Compagnie de Jésus, je relève les caractéristiques de la collaboration au cœur de la mission d'éducation avec des notes particulières et spécifiques au contexte africain. La présentation part d'un arrière-fond spirituel de la collaboration dans l'esprit de saint Ignace de Loyola. Elle introduit la collaboration comme une force de communion et de réussite dans l'œuvre éducative, avec un accent particulier sur la place du laïc comme meilleur interprète des jésuites. Elle développe la collaboration ad intra qui concerne les partenaires d'un collège (administratif, personnel enseignant, élèves, parents, anciens élèves, bienfaiteurs et communauté jésuite à laquelle l'œuvre est confiée). Elle relève quelques difficultés relatives à cette collaboration en Afrique et Madagascar ainsi que les efforts pour les transcender. Elle développe aussi la collaboration ad extra qui concerne les relations extérieures, les jumelages et la politique du réseautage dont a parlé la 35ème Congrégation Générale de la Compagnie de Jésus. Quelques exemples illustrent la mise en pratique de ces réseaux qui font du « monde notre maison » dans le contexte éducatif et donnent un gage d'enrichissement.

Navigating the Great Wall of Teacher/Student Exchanges with China

Jenny Go

*Directress, Xiamen Project

Bernard Bouillette, Ph.D

*Vice President, Jesuit Secondary Education Association
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 235

A presentation and reflection on experiences of four years with China exchange programs with JSEA and schools in Xiamen, China. Jesuits and partners in mission have taught high school principals, kindergarten, elementary and secondary school teachers in Xiamen, a coastal city in southern China. In addition, the work has included teaching of English to Chinese teachers of English and to Chinese senior high school students, high school student exchange programs, teacher exchange programs, foreign students studying Chinese in Xiamen for six weeks, and American scholastics' formation program. As the larger world seeks ways to reach out to China, personal contact through experiences such as the JSEA teacher and student exchanges and the Xiamen Project allow foreigners to grow in understanding of Chinese realities. Future work can build upon such a foundation which bridges cultures in order to realize the peace and unity promised in Christ.

El Colegio de la Inmaculada está ubicado en la ciudad de Lima, la capital del Perú. El Perú es un país que posee una gran diversidad de climas por lo agreste y diferenciado de sus territorio que va desde los desiertos de la región costera, pasando por las altas montañas de los andes hasta la inmensa llanura de la selva amazónica. Esto hace que el país posea una muy vasta biodiversidad. La ciudad de Lima se ubica en la costa central del país. Con más de ocho millones de habitantes, en Lima no llueve nunca. El agua que requiere la consigue de los deshielos de la cordillera de los andes que le llegan gracias a las corrientes de tres ríos que la recorren de este a oeste. Se entiende que el suministro de agua sea un problema. Esto se agrava en la medida en que Perú es una de las zonas que se está viendo más afectada en el planeta por el calentamiento global: nuestros glaciares se están derritiendo y el suministro de agua para la ciudad –y para todas las ciudades de la costa peruana- se verán seriamente afectados. El colegio ocupa un espacio muy amplio de 29 hectáreas para de las cuales corresponde a una colina de unos 150 metros de altura. El colegio construyó un sistema de tratamiento de aguas servidas gracias al cual puede mantener los tres campos de fútbol, los jardines y otros espacios de recreación. Además está forestando la colina y cuenta con 1 500 olivos y frutales (pecanas, higos, naranjos) que le permiten tener una pequeña línea de producción que alcanza para financiar el mantenimiento del terreno. Adicionalmente se produce abono natural (compost) con los residuos de la basura del colegio. El proyecto cuenta con un zoocriadero oficialmente reconocido de especies nativas algunas de las cuales están en peligro de extinción. Posee jaguares, pumas, osos de anteojos; venados, alpacas, vicuñas; roncos, maras y un lagarto; monos; papagayos, loros, tucanes, gallitos de las rocas, pavos reales, etc. El zoocriadero está en el centro mismo de la escuela y los alumnos viven en un entorno donde aprenden a amar la naturaleza y respetarla.

The Dangers of Technology to Personal and Spiritual Formation

James Linhares,

*Assistant Principal for Mission, St. Louis University High School
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 425

Modern technology--as powerful and important as it can be as a tool in our work and as ubiquitous as it is in modern life--poses particular dangers and obstacles to personal and spiritual formation. In this presentation we will examine those obstacles, present some of the unique ways in which Jesuit spirituality and formation can and should address this problem and leave some time for questions and conversation on this critical topic.

Many of our schools are dependent on fundraising to provide necessary funding in support of our mission both in the operating and capital projects. Successful development offices use a variety of means to communicate with constituencies (alumni, parents, friends, foundations) and invite their support of school needs through direct mail annual giving, special events and the use of social media. This workshop will feature an overview of fundraising programs through a power point presentation followed by a panel discussion reflecting local differences in approaches.

Es una herramienta de aprendizaje que pretende desarrollar la mirada crítica, generar deseo de cambiar esa realidad que no nos gusta, sentirnos capaces de construir algo nuevo y, de hecho, construirlo; es una forma muy adecuada de desarrollar con los alumnos el Paradigma Pedagógico Ignaciano de una manera innovadora y tremadamente creativa. En 4 fases el alumno se convierte en el protagonista y responsable de su aprendizaje y el educador se convierte en el acompañante de dicho proceso. (a) SIENTE: los alumnos hacen una reflexión sobre su entorno detectando situaciones que desearían cambiar. (b) IMAGINA: una vez seleccionada la situación, deben soñar el cambio que desean realizando propuestas concretas. Se fomenta la creatividad. (c) HAZ: Paso del plano teórico a la realidad desarrollando un plan de acción que finalmente ejecutarán. Se fomenta el sentido de iniciativa. (d) COMPARTE: Se socializa todo el proceso y se comparte lo vivido.

Face to Faith: Engaging the Global Dimensions of Jesuit Education

Johnny Go, SJ

President, Xavier School Philippines

Mary Katherine Sheena

*Theology Teacher, Regis High School
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 145

How can we best form our students to be “men and women with and for others” in an era of globalization and religious pluralism? As educators, it is our task to help our students gain the technical and cultural competence necessary for a global age; yet as Jesuit educators, it is equally vital that we teach our students to respond to our interdependence with a “faith that does justice,” serving those on the margins and ensuring that a more globalized world is a more just one too. This session will introduce the Face to Faith program, an innovative and free education program designed to help students become global citizens. Developed by the Tony Blair Faith Foundation, Face to Faith facilitates civil dialogue and cooperative learning through videoconferencing and an online community so that students can communicate directly with peers from around the world about faith, values, and issues of common concern. In addition to an overview of the program, Jesuit educators who are already involved in Face to Faith will discuss their experience working with the program and the effect it has on their students.

Cinematic Retention of Classroom Experience

Sebastian James, SJ

*Vice Principal, St. Xavier's Collegiate School

Fulton Hall Room 210

The world is in a flux. Until a few centuries ago travelling from one continent to another was quiet unheard of. Now thanks to an advanced transport system one can have his breakfast in Africa and his dinner in Europe. This is the modern day miracle of industrialization. People move from place to place more often than never before. Till a decade ago talking to friends and family on phone was a costly affair. But now thanks to mobile phones no one is far away. People are connected. Our tool for existence and sustenance is getting better day by day thanks to technological improvisation. We pass on better facilities to the next generations. However, the educational institutions somehow have not allowed themselves to absorb these innovations to enhance the teaching learning experience of the students. It is time we make the boring, lifeless classroom more interactive and a pleasurable experience for students and teachers. There has been disconnect between teachers and students, teachers and parents. Let us bridge the gap through the medium of computer aided means.

The JSEA offers a variety of programs including the Seminars in Ignatian Leadership; 19 constituents group conferences; triennial national programs such as the Ignatian Leadership Academy, Symposium and Colloquium; surveys and research tools on student attitudes, school identity, and administrative evaluations; publications and research; as well as consultation services to member schools.

An Ignatian Framework for

Dr. Kang John Tan

*Principal, Wah Yan College

Fulton Hall Room 235

Objectives of staff development strategies are presented in the form of several sets of Ignatian values, each set consisting of an element of the Jesuit world view and values-laden goals in Ignatian education. This framework of objectives can be used for the planning, implementation and evaluation of the staff development strategies in a Jesuit school, as illustrated in the examples adopted for new, experienced and mentor teachers in a Jesuit school in Hong Kong, China.

The Ignatian Pilgrimage:
An exciting new formation experience for students, graduates, and staff

Christopher Lowney

*Author, Lecturer
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 245

In 1522, Ignatius of Loyola journeyed from his home in Loyola to Montserrat and Manresa. This pilgrim experience changed his life and was key to the birth of the Spiritual Exercises. As we approach the 500th anniversary of this momentous event in Jesuit and church history, a new pilgrim trail has just been launched, enabling the Jesuit family to walk, cycle, or drive in the footsteps of Ignatius from Loyola to Manresa. The Camino Ignaciano ("Ignatian Way") website, now in five languages, (<http://caminoignaciano.org/?lang=en>) gives day-by-day directions to those who wish to journey the route, the site also provides an adaptation of the Spiritual Exercises so that pilgrims can enjoy both a physical and a spiritual pilgrimage. The project, endorsed by the Jesuit provincials of Spain, will be a wonderful resource for Jesuit high schools around the world: groups of students, graduates, or staff members can journey together, for as short as a few days or as long as a month, and profit from an experience that will be rich on multiple levels: physical exercise and challenge, cultural and linguistic exposure, spiritual formation, historical learning, and, most important of all, the chance to connect deeply with Ignatius and his spirituality. In this presentation, Chris Lowney will introduce the route and the resources available, show a short video about the route, and engage attendees in discussion of how Jesuit high schools might incorporate the Ignatian Camino into their formation programs.

Religious Education in American Jesuit Schools: Context, Conversation and Community

Peter Skipper

*Religion Teacher, Boston College High School
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 250

How Religious Education in a Jesuit Catholic school can lead students in ways of walking through current teen culture with faith and hope, and help them to grow in living a holy life. In what ways are we being intentional in both the informational and the formational aspects of our Jesuit, Catholic, and Christian Tradition? As lay collaborators increasingly assume the work of the Jesuits, how attentive are we to the various aspects of our mission, to continue the vision of Ignatius, and to inspire these young people to "set the world on fire for Christ"? We'll seek to affirm what religious educators already do, and offer challenges to improve our efforts in leading students to become workers in the kingdom.

Identity: How the Jesuit School's Apostolic and Business Models Can Support One Another

Jack Peterson

*President, Bellarmine Preparatory
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 425

One of the challenges to Jesuit education in the US, and other countries as well, as capitalist market structures are becoming more common, is navigating the economic demands of the educational marketplace. How do we do this without diluting, but rather strengthening, the school's Catholic and Ignatian mission? We have to be able to live in both worlds, and Ignatian spirituality provides some surprisingly effective approaches.

Making Mission Matter: Integrating the Graduate at Graduation into the Curriculum

Robert A. Perrotta, JD, Ed.D

*Principal, Fairfield College Preparatory School
Chair of the Jesuit Secondary Education Association Board
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 453

How do we ensure that our common philosophy as Jesuit schools defined by the "Graduate at Graduation" is integrated throughout all that we offer as part of our curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular offerings? How do we map the tenets of our Jesuit philosophy to the curriculum? This presentation will explore an approach that fosters an ongoing review of the interrelationship between curriculum and mission so that mission is always the animator of our actions. The approach includes administering a faculty survey of the constituent elements of the Grad at Grad profile to determine the major areas that are a source of faculty concern, developing strategies to address each of these areas of concern, mapping the major areas of concern to the curriculum by each academic department.

The World Union of Jesuit AlumniFabio Tobon

Member of Council, World Union of Jesuit Alumni
Columbia

Fulton Hall Room 115

The World Union of Jesuit Alumni (ae) was established on July 31, 1956 at Bilbao (Spain) during the Congress of Loyola held on the occasion of the 400th anniversary of the death of Saint Ignatius of Loyola. Its intention was to unify all alumni(ae) of all Jesuit educational institutions through their local, regional, national and international organizations in one common apostolic effort. Through the history of WUJA, there has been seven World Congresses. 1956 in Bilbao, Spain; 1967 in Rome, Italy; 1986 in Versailles, France; 1991 in Bilbao – Loyola to commemorate the 500 anniversary of the birth of Saint Ignatius. The following congresses have been held outside Europe, in the year 1997 in Sydney, Australia; in 2003 at Kolkata, India. The seventh Congress was held in 2009 in Bujumbura, Burundi. The Eight Congress will be in Medellin, Colombia between 14 and 18 of August 2013. The Ninth Congress will be in the USA in 2017. The objectives of WUJA are: 1- Preserve and develop bonds of friendship, communication and solidarity among alumni/ae throughout the world; 2- Encourage alumni/ae to co-operate actively with the Society of Jesus in its various missions: particularly in education, spiritual life, community service and social justice and 3- Inspire alumni/ae to implement the education, which they were given, based on Christian humanism and Ignatian spirit, above all so that they play their part, through their personal life and their social action, in building a world where people can fulfill themselves with complete dignity.

La Red Ignaciana de apoyo al Derecho a la educaciónLucia Rodriguez Dóñate

Fulton Hall Room 117

En noviembre de 2008, un grupo de 50 personas comprometidas con la labor apostólica Ignaciana y Jesuita se reunieron en Madrid – España para compartir su experiencia de trabajo de apoyo en varios ámbitos así como para valorar la posibilidad de llevar a cabo un trabajo en red a nivel internacional. Esta reunión supuso el punto de partida de lo que actualmente se conoce como GIAN, Global Ignatian Advocacy Network. Las distintas áreas en las que se divide el GIAN son: Ecología, Paz y Derechos Humanos, Gobernanza de Recursos Naturales, Migraciones y Derecho a la Educación. Estas cinco redes están compuestas por instituciones Jesuitas de todo el mundo entre las que se incluyen centros sociales, universidades, centros pastorales y escuelas. El GIAN pretende responder a la llamada que se hizo en la Congregación General 35 para una mayor implicación e influencia en el mundo que nos rodea, es decir, para "tender puentes entre ricos y pobres, estableciendo vínculos en el terreno de la incidencia política para la colaboración entre aquellos que detentan el poder político y aquellos que encuentran dificultad en hacer oír sus intereses" (Decreto 3, N.º 28). En este taller se presentará específicamente la propuesta de trabajo de la Red Ignaciana para el Derecho a la Educación. El objetivo de esta red consiste en reunir obras de la compañía que hacen apoyo por el derecho a la educación a nivel nacional y local para desarrollar acciones conjuntas y presionar internacionalmente en las políticas públicas para conseguir una educación básica y continua para todas las personas. En el taller se presentará el trabajo realizado hasta ahora por la red y la planificación futura abriendo un espacio para el debate entre los asistentes invitando a los asistentes y sus centros educativos a sumarse a la red.

This workshop will demonstrate several technology tools that promote interactive teaching and learning. We will begin with Dyknow, a tool that can be thought of as "PowerPoint on steroids" allowing interactive activities with students as well as monitoring tools for teachers. We will discuss the use of digital inking software tools such as PDF Annotator, Windows Journal and the Microsoft Office Suite. Finally, we will turn to convertible tablets which combine the best of both worlds: the use of digital ink/pen and a keyboard.

Un établissement scolaire jésuite sans jésuites est-il possible?

Michel Garot

Fulton Hall Room 210

Les vocations religieuses diminuent considérablement dans certains pays. Cet état de fait touche aussi la Compagnie de Jésus en Europe. Faute d'implantation de communautés jésuites dans la localité, des établissements scolaires toujours sous tutelle jésuite ne disposent pas de la présence permanente de religieux. La question : comment inspirer et pratiquer un projet pédagogique et éducatif ignatien en l'absence de professeurs, d'éducateurs, d'aumôniers jésuites? Notre atelier voudrait répondre à cette question à partir d'exemples de situations vécues.

Fulton Hall Room 220

Después de muchos años de un funcionamiento muy independiente entre las escuelas, la Compañía de Jesús crea la Fundació Jesuïtes Educació para fomentar el trabajo en red de las siete escuelas jesuitas de Cataluña (Barcelona/España). Mediante el conocimiento mutuo y la realización de actividades conjuntas, se establece una nueva relación de colaboración entre los centros. Desde hace tres años se ha intensificado el trabajo en común para pasar de ser una red de escuelas jesuitas a unas escuelas jesuitas en red, como medio para realizar una profunda transformación de la educación desde nuestra espiritualidad y compromiso social. En el taller se presentarán el conjunto de proyectos, iniciativas y reformas organizativas (tales como cambios pedagógicos, tecnológicos, económicos, jurídicos, organizativos, de identidad o de imagen) que están permitiendo dar un salto muy importante en la consecución del objetivo de devenir una red integrada de centros jesuitas, compartiendo la experiencia realizada hasta el momento y su proyección futura, así como las resistencias detectadas.

The Ignatian Solidarity NetworkChristopher Kerr

*Executive Director, Ignatian Solidarity Network
USA*

Fulton Hall Room 245

The Ignatian Solidarity Network (ISN) is a U.S. based social justice organization inspired by the spirituality of St. Ignatius of Loyola. The main partners of ISN are the wide variety of Jesuit institutions and works in the United States. ISN works collaboratively with more than thirty Jesuit high schools across the U.S., providing social justice educational opportunities for students and faculty, justice leadership and advocacy opportunities for school delegations and networks for faculty to further collaborate in their work to develop young men and women of faith and justice. ISN also strives to provide opportunities for secondary school interaction and collaboration with other Jesuit works, including colleges and universities, parishes, and social ministry apostolates within the U.S. and beyond. This presentation invites international Jesuit educators to learn about ISN's collaborative work for social justice education and advocacy, including tangible examples of how this collaboration is impacting the development of students' faith and justice understanding at U.S. institutions. Attendees will also have the opportunity to consider ways that those within the U.S. and beyond can become more involved in the collaborative efforts of the Ignatian Solidarity, and also offer initiatives or efforts for consideration of engagement by the Ignatian Solidarity Network.

Engaging Alumni in a Meaningful Way

William Kemeza, President

Michele O'Connor Daily,

Vice President for Institutional Advancement
Boston College High School
USA

Fulton Hall Room 250

The goal is to advance our school in the Jesuit, Catholic tradition. This is becoming an increasingly more expensive proposition and we cannot do it alone. No matter the size of our institution, we are becoming ever more dependent on our board members and volunteers who are both affluent and influential to help us achieve our strategic goals. In today's economy these relationships have never been so critical. This workshop will focus on the importance of fostering strong and mutually beneficial partnerships in our board and engaging alumni and parents who give their time, talent, and treasure. We will share with you what has worked for us and hope you leave this session with a few tips to help advance your strategic goals and build meaningful relationships with your alumni. Audience participation and questions encouraged.

How important is faith formation at your Jesuit school?

Michael Tracy

Campus Minister, St. Ignatius High School
USA

Fulton Hall Room 423

Is living a life of faith as a Christian or a Catholic important to the students (parents? faculty? administrators?) at your school? In the past, most students/faculty/administrators at Jesuit schools were Catholic and came from families that were active in practicing the Catholic faith. We no longer assume this to be true. Is drawing our students into a deeper faith relationship with Jesus Christ still an important and shared part of our mission? This workshop will discuss the challenges, the great need and signs of hope in adolescent faith-formation.

Ethos and Identity Review for Jesuit Schools

Christopher Gleeson, SJ

Provincial Delegate for Education and Mission Formation,
Australian Province of Society of Jesus
Australia

Fulton Hall Room 453

In 2011 we conducted an inaugural Ethos and Identity Review for our four Jesuit-owned schools in Australia. In response to the Provincial's call in 2006 to "develop, for Australian Jesuit Education, an assessment instrument that will enable each to reinforce and to measure the Jesuit character of our schools, and thus meet the Province's and their own expectations". The workshop would examine the Instrument, how it has been used, and the outcomes of the exercise.

Saludamos a todos los Educadores que se reúnen en Boston.

La Educación Jesuita e Ignaciana fue inspirada y se fue haciendo grande en el mundo por el empuje y lucidez de muchos que han trabajado formando personas a partir de la pedagogía de los Ejercicios. Hoy los nuevos contextos también nos invitan a tomar los ejemplos de quienes nos han precedido y hacer que nuestro “modo de proceder” continúe moviendo espíritus. El mundo cambia rápido y las nuevas oportunidades que nos ofrecen las tecnologías hacen que sea ineludible transitar por una recreación de nuestro ejercicio pedagógico. Y son los líderes de los cientos de Centros Educativos Jesuitas quienes deben ser los primeros - que sustentados en toda la riqueza histórica y espiritual heredada – se entusiasmen de estar en el liderazgo en la formación de personas para el siglo XXI .

Los últimos documentos corporativos de la Compañía de Jesús y los continuos llamados del General en el sentido de buscar y ponerse en las fronteras, nos convocan hoy en Boston. Que él Señor nos ayude en esta búsqueda y nos mantenga en nuestros empeños y deseos durante estos años.

Especiales agradecimientos a la Provincia de Brasil Centro quien generosamente permitió que muchos llegaran a esta convocatoria.

Ní neart go cur le chéile!

There is no strength without unity.

(Gaelic / Irish proverb)

Belvedere College SJ, Dublin, is delighted to support the gathering of Jesuit Secondary schools in Boston. Hopefully each of us will leave the conference with a greater sense of our shared vision of education, a deeper appreciation of the uniqueness of each school and a determination to develop our links as part of a global network of Jesuit works. We need strength to face the challenges in our different societies and as this Irish proverb reminds us, we have huge potential strength if we open ourselves to the Holy Spirit.

*Lord, teach me to be generous.
Teach me to serve you as you deserve;
to give and not to count the cost,
to fight and not to heed the wounds,
to toil and not to seek for rest,
to labor and not to ask for reward,
save that of knowing that I do your will.*

*Seigneur Jésus, Apprenez-nous à être généreux,
À vous aimer comme vous le méritez
 À donner sans compter
 À combattre sans souci des blessures
 À travailler sans chercher le repos
À me dépenser sans attendre d'autre récompense
 Que celle de savoir que nous faisons votre Sainte Volonté.*

Amen.

La Oración de San Ignacio de Loyola

*Señor, Jesús, enséñame a ser generoso, a servirte como mereces, a dar con generosidad,
a combatir sin temor a las heridas,
a trabajar sin buscar el descanso,
a entregarme sin esperar otra recompensa que la de saber que hacemos tu santa voluntad.*

Dear Partners in Jesuit Education,

It has been an invaluable experience to walk the journey of the first ever International Colloquium on Jesuit Education with all of you. We hope that our most modest of goals has been accomplished – taking the first step in broadening and deepening our collaborative efforts throughout our expansive global network. However, while we know our time together in Boston has incredible value, we also recognize that it is merely a first step, and that the true success of the ICJSE will be measured by the collaborative efforts we continue to make as a network.

General Congregation 35 has called us to action, and the challenge that lies before us now is to garner the creativity, motivation and energy to turn the amazing ideas, discussions, and visions we have had over the past five days slowly into reality... Create the exchange program you discussed, implement your new faculty formation program, promote global competence... As a network, our opportunities to positively impact the lives of our students are endless – I look forward to continuing that journey with all of you!

Chers collègues de l'éducation jésuite,

Participer avec vous tous à ce premier colloque international sur l'éducation jésuite a été une expérience inestimable. Nous espérons avoir atteint jusqu'au plus modeste de nos objectifs : approfondir et renforcer nos efforts de collaboration à travers notre réseau mondial. Cependant, bien que nous soyons conscients de l'immense valeur de notre rassemblement à Boston, nous savons également que ce n'est que la première étape vers le véritable succès de l'ICJSE, succès qui se mesurera par nos efforts de collaboration continués en tant que réseau.

La 35^{ème} Congrégation générale nous a lancé un appel à l'action : le défi qui se dresse maintenant devant nous est de faire preuve de créativité, de motivation et d'énergie afin de concrétiser petit à petit les brillantes idées, discussions et visions que vous avez eues pendant ces cinq jours... Organisez le programme d'échange dont vous parlez, mettez en place le nouveau programme de formation de votre faculté, mettez en valeur chacune de vos compétences... En tant que réseau, nos chances d'avoir un impact positif sur la vie de nos étudiants sont infinies. Je suis impatient de continuer ce voyage avec vous!

Estimados compañeros en la educación Jesuita:

Para los organizadores del Coloquio ha sido de inestimable valor vuestra colaboración en este primer Coloquio Internacional de la Educación Secundaria Jesuita. Esperamos que nuestros modestos objetivos se hayan cumplido, como poner la primera piedra para aumentar y profundizar nuestros esfuerzos conjuntos a través de nuestra red internacional que cada vez se expande más. Esta reunión en Boston tiene un valor incalculable, sin embargo, somos conscientes de que supone tan solo el primer paso, y que el verdadero éxito del ICJSE se reflejará en los esfuerzos conjuntos que realicemos como red.

La Congregación General 35 llamó a la acción a la comunidad Jesuita. El reto que se presenta ante nosotros consiste en reunir la creatividad, motivación y energía para convertir en realidades tangibles las ideas y puntos de vista que resultarán de estos cinco días. Crea el programa de intercambio sobre el que debatiste, implementa ese nuevo programa de capacitación docente , promueve la competencia global... Como red, las oportunidades de impactar positivamente en las vidas de nuestros estudiantes son infinitas. Espero con interés que recorramos ese camino todos juntos.

See you soon · Á bientôt · Nos vemos pronto
